- Holidays other than Winter Break count towards leave clocks. Pay during the Winter Break will be at regular salary.
- In order to take MIT Paid Parental leave, you must be benefits eligible on the day of the child’s birth.
- The MIT Paid Parental Leave Form must be completed and received before Workpartners will approve the leave.
- You cannot start MIT Paid Parental Leave before the birth of the child.
Policy Provisions – Employee Responsibility

For planned use of Sick Time, employees must provide at least:

- Seven days of advance notice for leaves relating to minor illnesses or medical appointments, and
- 30 days of notice for planned leaves for Serious Health Conditions, Paid Parental Leave or Bonding Leave, or leaves lasting more than three days.

  - Employees must follow call in procedures and contact supervisor to notify when they are sick. Normal call-in procedures have not changed.

For an emergency situation, employees (or other responsible party) must notify the supervisor as soon as practicable of the expected duration of the leave, or if unknown, on a daily basis.

Policy Provisions – Employee Responsibility

Unplanned Absences

• Employee must contact supervisor and follow department call-in procedures if they are out.

• Employee must contact Workpartners if they have a serious illness which may be 3 days or more. (Things like a cold, stomach bug, and flu are not considered serious health conditions.)

• Employees must be notified of their rights of FMLA and PFML.

• Workpartners will start a leave case if there is a serious illness of longer than three days.

• Employees should not request leaves through Workpartners more than 60 days in advance (can create payroll and leave time problems when leave is further out).

• Proof of Birth and Parental Leave Form must be provided to Workpartners to begin MIT Paid Parental Leave.

Workpartners

• Leave Specialist receives all required documentation and if meets requirements, approves leave in the Workpartners system.

• Workpartners sends a file feed to MIT and the leave action and dates of leave are automatically fed to the timesheet in SAP.

• SAP hourly time sheets are updated automatically with the leave type.

• Sick leave balances are automatically deducted.

• SIRP and State Rate does not deduct from sick leave balances but is counted towards leave entitlement clocks.
Timing of Leaves for Weekly Payroll

The timing of when a leave is sent to MIT for processing depends on when all documents are returned to Workpartners. There is then a turnaround time.

- Employees are notified at the time of leave that there may be pay delays.
- DLCs may have to do corrected time sheets in some cases.
- If an employee is using their sick leave, they should be paid for holidays and the DLC must put the holidays on the timesheet.
- If an employee misses pay due to the timing – the DLC can work with DSMLO to arrange for an out of cycle direct deposit.

Timesheets for Employee on Workpartners Leave

• All employees out on continuous or intermittent leave during the Winter Break will require timesheets to be completed with the Holiday or Special Holidays.

• During the first 15 days when the case is pending, employees can use their sick leave and it should be entered on the timesheet.

• If they do not have any sick time during the first 15 days, enter LWOP on the timesheet. If the medical documentation is received within 15 days, they will get retroactive pay at the SIRP 80% rate.

• If the medical documentation is late, they will be placed on LWOP on day 16.

• When late medical documentation is submitted and approved they will be paid at the State Rate retroactive to the first day of the leave and you will be paid SIRP as of the day medicals are received.

• When medical documentation is received, employee will be paid retroactively back to day 16 if they had 15 days of sick leave. If they were on leave without pay initially, they will receive the State Rate back to their first day of leave.
